TWO ARE BURNED IN OIL EXPLOSION

Mrs. George Robb and Son, Ed Robb,
1021 North Benjamin Street, are
Painfully Injured

USE KEROSENE TO START FIRE

Presence of Mind Saves Both When
Clothing Catches on Fire—Mr.
Robb Most Seriously Burned

Two persons were burned, one seriously, in an explosion of a kerosene can this morning at the home of Robert Robb, 1021 North Benjamin street, with Ed Robb and his mother, Mrs. George Robb, receiving the burns.

Mr. Robb was kindling the fire this morning and when the blaze did not make the headway that it should, he tossed the coal oil into the flames and the explosion resulted.

His mother, who was standing near by, received a portion of the blast that set fire to her clothing, while the son received almost the full blast. Each had a narrow escape from being seriously burned, but their presence of mind aided them in escaping with only slight burns.

The son received the most serious injuries, and was burned badly about the head, arms and body. His mother was burned about the arms and hands, in an effort to extinguish the flames.

Neighbors were attracted to the place by the explosion and excitement that followed, and a physician was summoned to dress the injuries. The son, who was the most seriously burned, is expected to recover, unless some complications arise.

It is regarded as fortunate that the explosion did not kill both members of the family, and it was also a fortunate thing that the house was not set on fire from the burning oil that was scattered about the room, when the can exploded.

$14 FOR NEAR EAST RELIEF

Sum Raised by War Mothers in Response to Indiana Leader's Appeal

The Rush county chapter of War Mothers realized $14 from the exchange held Saturday at Caron's candy kitchen, which will be given to Near East Relief, to the fund being raised through the observance of Golden Rule Sunday December 7. The local chapter attempted to raise a sum of money when the Indiana War Mother, Mrs. Huntington, sent out an appeal to the chapters of the state, asking their support of the movement to aid orphans in the Near East.

The War Mothers also realized $26 from a quilt, which was disposed of Saturday. It became the property of Mrs. Lawrence Tolls. This money will be used to apply on the expense of planting memorial trees for World War veterans who have died, in Memorial park.

LIQUOR CASE IS GIVEN TO JURY

Only Three Witnesses Used in Trial
of Thomas Robbins of Greensburg For Illegal Sale

TWO TESTIFY TO SALES

Defendant's Attempt to Have Case
Thrown out of Court is Overruled
by Judge

Thomas Robbins of Greensburg was tried today in the circuit court on a charge of illegal sale of liquor and the case was given over to the jury about three o'clock. Only three witnesses were used by each side.

The action against Robbins was sent here on a change of venue from Decatur county, and Fremont Miller, judge of the Johnson county court at Franklin, was elected special judge to try the cause.

A special venire of 15 names also was drawn and reported for the case this morning, but little trouble was obtained in picking the jury.

Before the case started this morning, a motion to discharge the defendant was filed, in which it was alleged that the case against him had been carried through three terms of court without trial, and after an argument on the motion, the judge overruled it.

The court held that the delays in the other terms of court had been caused by the defense and not by the state. Another motion was filed in which the defense attempted to show that he had answered to the case on a charge of maintaining a nuisance, and he asked to be discharged because of the former jeopardy.

This motion also was refused and the case was ordered to go on trial. The state presented three witnesses, William Rozelle and Ben Riley, who testified that they had purchased drinks from the defendant at 25 cents a glass. The first named witness made the purchase, according to the evidence, and each testified that they drank two drinks and that Rozelle paid the dollar. The other witness was John W. Holcomb, prosecuting attorney of Decatur county.

The defense did not offer any evidence but cross-examined these witnesses. It was intimated that in case of conviction, an appeal would be taken.

Robbins is charged with liquor law violations in four cases, and Gregg Alvey of Greensburg is charged in two cases, and all six were venued here at one time.

OFFICE CLOSING THURSDAY

The rush for hunting licenses is now on at the county clerk's office, according to Loren Martin, and the dollar licenses are being handed out at a rapid rate. Mr. Martin called attention today to the fact that the office will not be open on Thursday, and those who expect to hunt on Thanksgiving Day, should get their licenses before time, as he will not be in Rushville to open the office on that day.

REDDISH STAINS FOUND ON PIPES

New Evidence in Sheatsley Furnace
Mystery Points More Directly
Than Ever to Murder

STAINS TO BE ANALYZED

Half Filled Bottle of Carbolic Acid,
Missing From Its Place, Returned
to Parsonage

(By United Press)

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 24—New evidence pointing more directly than ever to the possibility of murder in the furnace mystery was unearthed today when Prosecutor John King and detectives made a thorough search of the Lutheran parsonage.

Stains, which may be blood, were discovered near the furnace. The stains, a reddish brown in color, were found on asbestos pipe above the furnace door through which Mrs. Sheatsley's body passed into the furnace.

Three finger prints were plainly discernible in the dust on another asbestos pipe.

The half filled bottle of carbolic acid which was missing from the parsonage immediately after Mrs. Sheatsley's death had been returned to its place on the bathroom shelf, King found in searching the house today.

This is further proof of the absurdity of the theory that Mrs. Sheatsley committed suicide, King said.

King immediately ordered all marks and stains carved out and turned over to Charles Long chemist, for analysis.

In the Lutheran parsonage furnace where Mrs. Addie Sheatsley's charred remains were found last Monday afternoon, pathologists today burned the bodies of two guinea pigs, hoping through this experiment to learn something of the circumstances of Mrs. Sheatsley's death.

With John R. King, county prosecutor standing at his side, Dr. H. M. Brundage threw the bodies into the fire and watched them burn.

The fire was brought to approxi-

President W. H. Settle Speaks at Opening of Indiana Farm Bureau
Federation

SAYS STATE IS 38TH IN UNION

Taxation, Schools and Good Roads
Stressed in Address—Rush County
Represented

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 24—Indiana is trailing thirty eight other states in enacting cooperative marketing laws, W. H. Settle, president of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation, declared today at the opening of the federation convention here.

"We cannot operate our cooperative marketing association to the best advantage under the existing marketing laws in Indiana," he said.

"The Indiana Farm Bureau Federation must concentrate its efforts on securing for the farmers the best cooperative law that has been written on the statute books of any state."

"If agriculture expects to have equal rights with other industries under the law we must interest ourselves in legislation to the same extent that labor and industry have done."

Other legislative problems stressed by Settle in his address was taxation, schools and good roads.

Purdue University will cooperate with the federation to the fullest extent in working for the passage of legislation to help the farmer.

Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, was to address the conference this afternoon.

TRUE BEAUTY IS DEEPER THAN SKIN

It is Soul Deep, Declares the Rev. H. W. Hargett, in Last of Sermons
on "The Girl of Today"

SETS UP IDEAL FOR GIRLS

Pastor of St. Paul's Church Says
There is Light, Law and Love
in Heart of "King's Daughter"

At St. Paul's M. E. church Sunday night the pastor, the Rev. H. W. Hargett delivered the closing sermon in the series on "The Girl of Today" in spite of the rain and snow a fine audience was present. Mrs. Neff Ashworth sang very beautifully. The text was Psalms 45:13, "The King's daughter within the palace is all glorious."

"That is a noble ideal for the girl of today," said the pastor. "It makes the goal of life glorious womanhood. It leads to the cultivation of that inner beauty of soul which makes the life strong and beautiful whatever its environment. Occasionally we are told beauty is only skin deep. No greater mistake could be made. True beauty is always soul deep."

The King's daughter is all glorious within. Her life is radiant because there is light in her heart and law and love. In his essay on "Lantern Bearers", Robert Louis Stevenson preaches a profound sermon on the power of light within the soul. The lantern bearers were a set of school boys who found a passionate pleasure in buttoning lighted lanterns under their coats and then going forth to roam over the sand hills. Whenever they met each other or met with strangers these urchins in the dark could open their coats and send forth gleams of light that drove back the darkness. In the joy which it gave them these boys knew not that they were poets expressing the secret of the radiant life.

If there is light in the heart of the King's Daughter there is also law. In the centre of the Jewish tabernacle was the Holy of Holies. In that inner shrine was the ark of the covenant and illuminated by the glory of the Shekinah. Within the ark were the tables of stone containing the law. Thus I would have you keep within your hearts the law of the Lord. I would have the "Thou shalt not" there as well as the "Thou shalt". Unless it be for some high and holy purpose thou shalt not go where there is danger to health or reputation or influence. Thou shalt not go where you lose the sense of divine values.

FIRST CLEW TO BANK THIEVES

Kosciusko County Sheriff Learns
Way Converse Yeggmen Went

Warsaw, Ind., Nov. 24—Sheriff Maley of Kosciusko county today obtained the first clue as to the direction taken by the eight bandits who robbed the bank at Converse last week.

A. E. Yeiter, proprietor of a general store at Clumette, four miles northwest of here, informed the sheriff that two automobiles bearing eight men stopped at his place, procured gasoline and proceeded in the direction of South Bend.

All banks of Warsaw and many business places today were equipped with loaded rifles and revolvers to guard against robberies following the holdup of the Converse bank last week. The banks have also employed special policemen.

WELFARE STOCK VALUE MARKED UP

Frank C. Willis, Accountant and Defendant, Explains How Hawkins
Deficit Was Wiped Out

A SURPLUS IN ITS PLACE

Witness Says His Audit of Books
Did Not Purport to be Actual Financial Condition

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 24—A half million dollars deficit in the account of the Hawkins Mortgage Company was wiped out and the books were made to show a surplus of $125,000 by the simple expedient of marking up the value of stock in Welfare loan associations $625,000, was revealed today in the Hawkins mail fraud trial.

Frank C. Willis, Indianapolis accountant and one of the sixteen defendants in the case, testified that at one stroke the deficit vanished and a substantial surplus appeared to conceal the precarious financial condition of the Mortgage Company.

This juggling of accounts was accomplished through boosting the value of stock in the numerous loan societies operated by the Hawkins Company, Willis declared.

He insisted that the audit of the books of the company which resulted in his indictment did not purport to be a statement of the actual financial condition of the company. Willis testified he made no actual investigation of the condition of the Welfare Companies and was not supposed to do so.

Four of the sixteen defendants had not yet taken the stand in their own defense when the third week of the trial started this morning.

Attorneys for William Sacks, of St. Louis, one of the officers of the United Home Builders, a Hawkins subsidiary loan company, were uncertain whether he would be placed on the stand.

Frank Willis, Indianapolis accountant, charged with making a juggled audit of the Hawkins books, resumed the stand for brief cross examination.

Sensational revelations of the inner workings of the Hawkins company were expected in the testimony of Frank Jaqua, former attorney for the company, who was to take the stand during the day.

An affidavit by Jaqua presented by the government earlier in the trial charged that William Jones and Nord Carter, two other defendants, entered a secret agreement with Morton Hawkins, president of the mortgage company, to "sell out" the Indiana Rural Credit Association for $10,000 in cash and a slice of Hawkins stock.

The case is expected to go to the jury late Tuesday or Wednesday.

JUDGE SPARKS IS NOT MENTIONED

Latest Political Gossip About Federal Appointments Does Not Include Him as Possibility

NEW DISTRICT MAY BE ADDED

Northern Indiana Republicans Demanding Judge Shall be From
That Section of State

The summons to Washington of Indiana political leaders, today, by William M. Butler, chairman of the national committee, and the visit of Senator James E. Watson to Indiana over the week end, has revived the speculation over the appointment of a successor to Judge Albert B. Anderson, who is in line for promotion to the United States court of appeals.

There is considerable local interest in revival of the talk about a successor to Judge Anderson because Judge Will M. Sparks of this city has been urged to succeed Judge Anderson, when he is elevated to the higher court, not only by his Rush county friends, but by well known attorneys throughout the state.

It has been known here for some time that Judge Robert C. Baltzell of Princeton, judge of the Gibson circuit court, was favored by a number of republican political leaders, and very strong intimations have come that he will be recommended to President Coolidge for appointment as successor to Judge Anderson.

Several days ago, there was a story circulated in Indianapolis to the effect that Judge Sparks was very prominently mentioned as the probable judge for the northern federal district of Indiana, in case the Hickey bill, which is pending before congress, becomes a law. It would create a new federal district and give Indiana two federal judges.

But following the republican meeting at South Bend Saturday night, which was attended by Senator Watson, Judge Sparks, in a political story in the Indianapolis Star today, was not included in the list of possibilities for the appointment. It was stated that northern Indiana republicans would demand appointment of a northern Indiana man, which would eliminate Judge Sparks from consideration.

Senator Watson is said by the Star this morning to have refused to discuss the matter of pending Federal appointments in Indiana during his stay here yesterday.

"You can't fill a hole until you take out the peg," he said, in reply to a question as to whom he considered the most likely person to succeed either Judge Anderson or Mr. Elliott. He would not discuss, either, the Hickey bill, declaring the bill is in the Senate now, and that it status is the same as it was at the close of the last session of Congress.

Comment continues in the Star as

FIRE KILLS MUCH YOUNG GROWTH

Practically All Young Reproduction Was Wiped Out Over Large Areas in Parts of State

NEGLECT WAS RESPONSIBLE

Conservation Officials Endeavoring to Create Sentiment for Cooperation in Fire Fighting

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 24—With the burning over of thousands of acres of land in Floyd, Harrison, Brown and Bartholomew counties last week before rains and heroic work of fire fighters prevented further spread, flames destroyed many thousands of dollars worth of young forest growth that it will take years to reproduce, state conservation officials estimate.

Practically all young reproduction was wiped out over large areas, thereby postponing for many years the maturing of a timber crop so badly needed on our Indiana hills declared Richard Lieber, conservation director for this state.

According to Charles C. Deam, state forester, wanton neglect was responsible for these forest fires. Local residents turn out and fight fires only when their homes are threatened. In many cases they backfire only to keep the flames from their buildings, and allowed the red demon to travel on to a neighbor's holdings.

Conservation officials are endeavoring to create sentiment toward perfecting local organizations to co-operate to fight forest fires when they are small and to prevent a general spread, because the experience of a week ago shows that at best local people only make a half hearted defense to keep flames away from their orchards, buildings, hay and straw stacks and not protect young forest growth.

"Those hills never will grow any timber and we may just as well let the fire burn what already is there," is a common statement to be heard among the hill people of Indiana. On the other hand the conservation department knows that nature intended those very hills for heavy forest production, they once contained the greatest hardwoods in the world and pure neglect caused them to be denuded now since former valuable crop was logged. The reason some of these hills now do not grow timber is because fires burn over them year after year, destroying the young growth and the leaf mulch, and injuring the larger trees.

If a reasonable amount of care is taken these Indiana hills can be depended upon to supply a considerable percent of our needed timber, but the first step in such a program is elimination of fire. Nature will do the rest, particularly if guided by sound forest management, Deam says.

WILL TEST 'SANAKRYSEN'
 What is Believed to Be Sure Cure for Tuberculosis to be Used

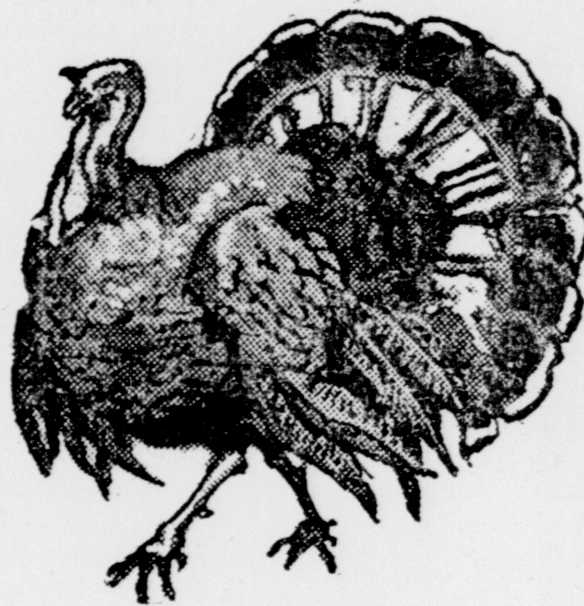

Columbus, Ohio., Nov., 24—"Sanakrysen," believed to be a sure cure for tuberculosis is to be tested in this country soon, according to Dr. Allen W. Freeman of Johns Hopkins University.
 The new compound is being brought here from Copenhagen where it has been used with success, by Professor Mollgard and will be given tests by the United States public health service, Dr. Freeman said.
 "Sanakrysen" is declared to be fatal to the tubercle bacillus, so fatal in fact that the principal difficulty in administering it that patients often are poisoned because of their inability to throw off the many dead tubercles.

The Christmas Seal

The history of the Tuberculosis Christmas Seal movement in Indiana and America is of deep interest to every citizen of the state at this time of the year, when "White Plague" opponents in this community and practically all others throughout the country are starting to finance the 1925 antituberculosis program through the sale of penny Christmas Seals.

Sixteen years ago Jacob Riis wrote an article for the "Outlook," telling of Christmas stamps sold in Denmark for support of a children's hospital there. Miss Emily P. Bissell, of Wilmington, Del., sold Seals for the first time in the United States and raised $1,000 thereby, to pay for the site of the first tuberculosis sanatorium in Delaware. This sanatorium was named "Hope Farm." After this experience, the growth in popularity of the little penny health emblems became greater and finally extended into far corners of the country. From the first it was realized by persons interested in the fight that the organized movement to combat the disease would have its widest value, perhaps, in its educational phases. From 1908 until 1919 the annual Christmas Seal Sale was sponsored by the American Red Cross, but by that time the fight against the "White Plague" had outgrown the emergency basis on which the American Red Cross most often operates, and it was determined that the fight was of such a continuing character that it should be placed upon its own feet with a national organization carrying on. The National Tuberculosis Association by then was well organized, its component parts being various state organizations—such as the present Indiana Tuberculosis Association—and these state organizations, in turn, made up of county associations operating in uniformity to educate the public against the ravages of the "Plague". For the first time, in 1919, the Christmas Seal carried the double-barred red cross, a specific symbol of the fight against tuberculosis, and the official emblem of the National Tuberculosis Association. This latter organization now has more than 1,200 state and local agencies in the United States.

As early as 1907, 300,000 of the little Christmas Seals were sold. From that small beginning the sale of Christmas Seals has leaped to a total of over $4,000,000 worth sold in 1923. This year throughout the United States the National Tuberculosis Association has distributed to its various agencies more than a billion Seals.

A total of 40,000,000 Seals has been ordered by the Indiana Tuberculosis Association for distribution to county associations for the 1924 Seal Sale. Murray A. Auerbach, executive secretary of the state association, is expecting that the Hoosier state will sell nearly $800,000 in Seals at the Christmas time this year, and such an amount will enable anti-tuberculosis work to go forward, he says, in an expended way that will mean a material decrease in the death rate from the disease in future years. Several counties of the state, in all probability, will exceed the ten cent per capita quota, which is the goal of all counties. In such counties citizens throughout 1925 and other future years will reap rewards in lives saved the sickness prevented that will repay in thousand fold the small amounts donated to the penny emblem of health. In our own community the Seal Sale is one worthy of the enthusiastic support and cooperation of every man, woman and child. Let's buy the Christmas Seal and drive out tuberculosis.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Thanksgiving would not be complete without a football game and Rushville is to have one. The local high school eleven will line up with the strong Kirklint high school team at the South Main Street grounds tomorrow afternoon.

Dan Kinney is recovering at his home in West Tenth street from injuries received in a fall Monday. He was standing on the steps of a train at the Big Four station when he lost his balance and fell to the platform. He was considerably bruised up and will probably be laid up for several days.

The annual Thanksgiving service will be held Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Main Street Christian church. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. E. C. Myers of the First Baptist church.

Lieut. Gov. Hall was a student in Indiana University back in 1867, when there were only four in the graduating class.

Allen Hiner, who is a student of Wabash college, will come tomorrow evening to spend the Thanksgiving vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hiner in North Main street. George Hopkins of Remsenlaer will be his guest for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reynolds will spend Thanksgiving with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reynolds in Straughns.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Miller returned yesterday from an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. William Necomer in Maryland and also with their son, Eugene, who is a student in Harvard University at Cambridge, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Pierson and son Charles and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Williams and son Roy of Indianapolis will spend Thanksgiving with R. H. Jones and family.

Miss Minnie Behr and Prof. and Mrs. J. H. Stockinger will go to St. Paul this evening to spend Thanksgiving with friends and relatives.

Miss Alpha Hanna Redman and Alvin Thomas Gibbs were married by the Rev. V. W. Tevis at the minister's home in North Harrison street this afternoon.

Thomas, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Neil of East Eighth street, is very ill.

Greensburg News: James Spillman, who is now the owner of a store in Milroy, is to become a citizen of that thrifty little town, from present indications. He has contracted with Smith Brothers, of this city, to build him a six room house and bath, a bungalow, in Milroy.

Elmer Williams, a student at Indiana University, came today to spend Thanksgiving with relatives near New Salem.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — The "short-haired woman in politics" so generally predicted during the years of suffrage agitation and campaigning, has not materialized.

At least she has not materialized as the woman who gets elected to office. She may be more active in agitating for the election of women, she may be the one who keeps things stirred up, but it is the long-haired ladies who are found to be victorious when the votes are counted.

Without exception, no woman elected to high office since woman suffrage was adopted has had short hair. Whether that is just happen-so, or whether this result is due to a clearly defined preference on the part of the voters for women who retained their long locks, no one can say for sure.

Perhaps it is simply another evidence of our conservatism, this choosing for public office of women who hold to the conservative, dignified, old-time coiffure as against the modernist "progressives" who wear their hair cut short.

MISS JEANETTE RANKIN, first woman to sit in Congress, wore her hair drawn straight back in a rather severe, spinsterly coiffure. "Aunt Alice" Robertson drew her gray hair into a tight little knot, in the style affected by the grandmothers of the modern bob-heads.

Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck and Mrs. Mae Nolan were less severe in the styles in which they wore their hair, but the point is, they wore it long.

"Grandma" Felton of Georgia, "senator for a day," violated the traditions of the old south by participating in politics, but she held inviolate the tresses of her girlhood.

So, too, do Mrs. Mary Norton and Mrs. Mary Burton, who will sit in the sixty-ninth Congress. And if this perfect score for the long-haired women in national politics is not convincing as to their ascendancy over the bob-heads in politics generally, then consider the first two women to be elected governors.

Neither "Ma" Ferguson of Texas nor "Our Nell" Ross of Wyoming wear their hair short. If they did—who knows?—they might not have won election.

For, as Coolidge's 18,900,000 plurality proves, the mass of American voters are at heart conservatives.

THERE seems to be some sort of affinity, political or otherwise, between the United States navy and the Roosevelt family.

To fill the vacancy as assistant secretary of navy, caused by the resignation of Theodore Jr., who quit the job to run for governor of New York, President Coolidge has appointed young Theodore Douglas Robinson of New York, a cousin of Theodore Jr., and a nephew of the original T. R.

Robinson's mother, Mrs. Douglas Robinson, was the youngest sister of President Roosevelt. His wife was herself formerly a Roosevelt, being a distant cousin.

With Theodore Roosevelt, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Theodore Roosevelt Jr. and Theodore Robinson all serving as assistant secretary of navy in a span of little more than 20 years, it might appear that this post is in danger of being entailed in the Roosevelt family. Certainly no such continuity of service in any similar office can be found for any other family.

OF equal interest to the appointment of young Robinson to this post, however, is the question of how it affects the likelihood of Theodore Jr. being handed the naval secretaryship for President Coolidge's next term.

Until now, this has been considered most likely. But the placing of both naval secretaryships in one family seems hardly likely. Certainly it would be poor "politics."

If there is light and law in the heart of the king's daughter there is also love. Love is the crowning glory of womanhood. Back of the service of our greatest men has even been the loving ministry of some noble wife or mother or sister or maiden aunt. Genius has been shaped, impulses restrained, errors corrected and a life moulded by hands the world never saw and of which often it has not dreamed. A recent biography of Count Tolstoy gives to his aunt Tatiana, the glory of building in him a strong moral and religious character. His mother died when he was an infant, his father when he was but nine years of age. His aunt rescued him from evil associations. Of her he says, "Aunt Tatiana taught me the moral joy of pure affection, not by words alone, but by her whole being; she imbued me with an admiration for all good things and helped me to experience the real joy of loving service for others." She who seeks that which is lovely in spirit, beautiful in conduct, tender in sympathy, pure in thought, lofty and unselfish in service is entitled to that most royal title, "A Daughter of the King."

HELP FOR OLD

Old Age Should be Happy—Not a Time of Sickness and Suffering

Too many people begin to suffer at middle age with constant backache, urinary ills and rheumatic pains and aches. Weak kidneys are usually the cause and, if neglected, there is danger of hardened arteries, dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic before kidney disease gets a firm hold! Use Doan's Pills. Thousands of old folks recommend Doan's.

Here is Rushville proof:
I. L. Clifford, retired mail carrier, 224 W. Fourth St., says: "I suffered with intense pains through the small of my back. At night, too, my back ached. My kidneys acted far too often and it was frequently necessary to pass the secretions at night. Doan's Pills, however, from Hargrove & Brown's Drug Store, relieved the backache and strengthened my kidneys."

Notre Dame Stands Alone as One Without Defeat or Tie to Mar Season's Record

WILL COAST REST OF THE WAY

General Dissatisfaction Expressed Over "Clouded" Championship Won by Chicago

By HENRY L. FARRELL (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, Nov. 24—With the only schedule in the land that has not been blemished by a defeat or a tie game, Notre Dame now leads all the football teams in the country. Defeating Northwestern Saturday, Notre Dame reached the summit of her mountainous schedule and the way should be coasting for the rest of the season.

Yale, Dartmouth and Pennsylvania are the only undefeated teams in the east, but they have engaged in tie games. Yale has played two tie games but has played through a schedule so much harder that she deserves first ranking in the east.

Yale also is the official champion of the "big three" for the second successive year and when a great victory was turned in over Harvard Saturday in a blinding rain storm, Yale finished her second season without a defeat.

Iowa State's unexpected victory over Drake last Saturday changed the standing in the Missouri Valley conference and placed Missouri in the lead. If Missouri fails to beat Kansas in their annual game on Thursday, Nebraska will claim the championship.

On the margin of one tied game less, Stanford is the champion of the Pacific Coast. California has two ties against Stanford's one and neither team was defeated. Some eligibility troubles, however, may cause the championship to be awarded to California.

By EDWARD C. DEER (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Nov. 24—General dissatisfaction with the clouded "championship" of the Big Ten football conference, won by the University to make radical changes in their plans when they meet here early in December.

Coach Stagg's Maroons, with only a mediocre team, went through six conference games undefeated and since every other Big Ten team was beaten at least once, Chicago claims the title.

But Chicago was tied by Illinois, Ohio State and Wisconsin. The only games the Maroons won were against Indiana, Purdue and Northwestern—teams generally rated at the bottom of the heap. They did not meet Michigan, Iowa or Minnesota and the general feeling prevails that at least two of these teams could have beaten Chicago. Missouri defeated the Maroons before the conference season opened.

Stagg's men arose to great heights and played far over their heads in holding "Red" Grange and his Illinois teammates to a tie. It was their biggest game and they pointed for it. They were never as good before or after.

Although somewhat different, the 1923 season was likewise unsatisfactory in that Illinois and Michigan both completed their schedules without defeat and had equal claims to the championship. They didn't meet each other.

Since it is obviously impossible for any team to engage each of the nine Big Ten opponents in any one year, the schedule makers are expected to devise some way of dividing the conference into an "upper" and "lower" groups so that each team would meet each other. These groups would change each year, of course, so that a team one year may be in the title class another year.

The final standing:

	Won	Lost	Tied
Chicago	3	0	3
Illinois	2	1	1
Iowa	3	1	1
Michigan	4	2	0
Purdue	2	2	0
Minnesota	1	2	1
Northwestern	1	3	0
Ohio	1	3	2
Wisconsin	0	2	2

Day of Big Purses Passing

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Nov. 24—Disturbed by the sharp decline of business in the boxing racket, boxers and their managers are now ready to admit that the day of the huge purse is passing and that boxers will have to fight harder in the future and for less money if the sport is to be maintained in the public fancy.

Eddie Kane, manager for Tom Ibbons and Sammy Mandell, two of the greatest drawing cards in the game, was the first to start a new precedent for modern managers that will have to be followed if the sport is to be revived.

The big purses that made boxing the most profitable profession in the country for three years resulted from outdoor shows and they were patronized so well that promoters could afford to offer absurd purses for the most ordinary attractions. It was foolish to believe that the public would tolerate indefinitely such an exorbitant assessment for the enjoyment of a sport that was decreasing constantly in class by the refusal of the topnotchers to meet real opponents.

Some managers fooled themselves into the notion that the public would stand for anything and they wouldn't consider a match that would demand any kind of a risk for their fighter. The public finally got fed up on poor shows and stopped paying the freight.

The Firpo-Wills fight was such a terrible bust that it practically closed the outdoor arenas for the season and almost blew up the business.

TRIALS SET FOR NOV. 27

Two complaints on accounts, filed in Justice Stech's court, have been set for trial on November 27. The complaint of the Central Hat Sales Company against Walter S. Mansfield, demanding $85 will be heard at nine o'clock and the case of the Menzies Shoe Company against the same defendant will be heard at 10 o'clock, in which $35 is demanded.

South Bend, Ind.—Rockne's Fighting Irish resolved today not to slacken their pace in preparing for the Carnegie Tech game next Saturday. Stiff scrimmages are on the program for the week.

FRIDAY

A one o'clock luncheon given at the home of Mrs. Anna Frazee of North Harrison street on Friday sponsored by the Advance Literary Club, honoring Mrs. Frazee, proved to be one of the delightful affairs of the season.

During the sumptuous repast an original poem written and dedicated to Mrs. Frazee by the club president, Mrs. Ruby Butler, was read and a comical jingle of her name was sung by the members.

Mrs. Frazee responded in her own charming manner and also read two fine poems from California, where she will spend the winter. These poems were written by Mrs. Walter Frazee, one of which is here given. Appropriate remarks were also made by some of the members:

"REDWOOD TREE,"

The towering form of Redwood tree

Is one inspiring sight to me. As up toward heaven she lifts her head,

Although the heart of her is dead, Burned out by lightning's darting fire,

She struggles on, and rises higher— The stately Redwood tree.

Of cowering form of frail human-ity!

Come, learn a lesson from the Redwood tree:

Rise above your troubles, lift your head,

Even though the heart of you be dead, Burned out by tragedy and woe:

Keep smiling and none will ever know Except the Stately Redwood tree.

Margaret Mitchell Frazee

Delphian's met at the Lollis Hotel. Mrs. Pearce had charge of the program.

MAY ITNRODUCE BILL TO CONTROL BUSSES

Senator-Elect E. W. Payne of
Bloomington Favors Giving One
Large Company a Franchise

TOO MANY ARE OPERATING

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 24—State Senator-elect E. W. Payne, of Bloomington, announced today he would probably introduce a bill in the next legislature for the control of motor busses by the public service commission.

A similar bill was introduced in the last session of the legislature but failed to pass.

"Busses, without a doubt, are and will be a big factor in Hoosier traffic problems," Senator-elect Payne said. "I believe there are too many bus lines operating to be for the best interests of the public."

"I would favor of giving one large company a franchise to operate over such routes as Bloomington-Martinsville-Indianapolis, allowing the company to charge $2 instead of $1.50 and compelling it to give much better service."

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole

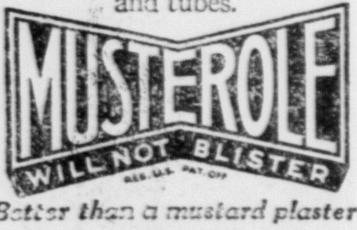

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once.

Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c, in jars and tubes.

"Flirting With Love"

That bit of flame in "Flaming Youth," the exposé of "Painted People" and the perfect flapper of "The Perfect Flapper" will enact a temperamental actress in "Flirting With Love" at the Princess Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

For the benefit of the few initiated it is no other than Colleen Moore, who is co-featured with Conway Tearle in this latest First National production, "Flirting With Love," based on Leroy Scott's story "Counterfeit," and directed by John Francis Dillon.

Earl Hudson, under whose supervision the picture was produced, could not have devised a better acting combination than these two players, who have leaped to the highest screen fame in little more than a year. Only those who see them in "Flirting With Love" will appreciate the greater histrionic heights they are certain to attain.

Although Miss Moore has been identified more or less with light comedy roles in her last three pictures, the surprise in store for her followers consists of seeing the young star in a tense emotional role. But not to the neglect of the style of comedy which has brought about her extreme popularity.

Needy Parents Come Before Even Second Hand Automobiles

Indianapolis, Ind. Nov. 24—Needy parents should be considered before second handed automobiles.

This was essentially the comment of the Indiana supreme court in upholding the provisions of an act passed by the last legislature providing that children are responsible for the support of their parents in case the latter are unable to support themselves.

The court in making this decision upheld the decision of the Lawrence circuit court in the case of the state against Bernard Lundy, of Bedford, Ind., who was said to be able to support his parents failed to do so and took them to the county poor farm. Lundy declared that he was married and his expenses were so great that he was unable to support them.

He said he spent $150 a month to support himself and his family. Of this item, it was found that $44.50 was for the purchase of a second handed automobile.

COMMISSION TO MAKE FARM STUDY

To Report to Pres. Coolidge Measures Which May be Factors in a Governmental Policy

PREDICTS A GREAT CHANGE

Washington, Nov. 24—The commission appointed by President Coolidge to advise him on agriculture policies will make a study going far beyond the problem of temporary relief.

President Coolidge has instructed the commission to be prepared to report to him measures which may become fundamental factors in a governmental policy toward agriculture.

The president disclosed in his speech to the land Grant College meeting that he is convinced an era of tremendous change is approaching in American farming. He believes "within a very few years" the United States will become one of the greatest buyers of farm products instead of one of the greatest sellers.

With this fundamental revolution imminent in the American farming world, Mr. Coolidge believes the government should be prepared with an adequate policy toward agriculture. In a general way measures should be taken to assure the American farmer the most scientific means of production and distribution.

"If we permit our farming population to fall to the level of a mere agricultural peasantry, they will carry down with them the general social and economic level," he pointed out.

The president did not indicate in his speech what the scope of the new farm policy might be. He will deliver another address November 17 before the agricultural commission which is expected to outline his plans more definitely.

"Senator Watson, according to rumors among those who have been looking to 1926, and who have been following the progress of the Hickey bill and the contest for the Federal bench here, is said to favor Robert C. Baltzell of Princeton, judge of the Gibson Circuit court, as a successor to Judge Anderson.

Followers of Postmaster General Harry S. New have opposed Senator Watson's making the appointment. The senator will be a candidate to succeed himself in the Senate in two years and selection of his favorite might be an advantage to him. Others who have been mentioned in connection with the berth are Archie Graham and Thomas Stack, both of South Bend.

Passage of the Hickey bill, it is believed will eliminate possibility of a clash between the opposing forces, by making necessary appointment of two judges, in which case Judge Baltzell would have the inside track for the South district, with Mr. Graham leading the field for the bench in the Northern division.

It is understood the Hoosier leaders will work for passage of the bill in view of the stand taken at the South Bend party. The consensus of opinion there was that Indiana should be placed on a par with Texas, Missouri and other Western states, which do not have as much business as Indiana, and which still have two Federal court divisions.

When Mr. Walb said the matter of Indiana appointments possibly

would come before the Washington conference, he declined to state whether he would recommend any one for the positions.

Mr. Walb will return to Indiana to spend Thanksgiving at his home in Lagrange, returning to Indianapolis for the inauguration of Frederick E. Schortemeier as secretary of state. Senator Watson will remain in Washington for the opening of Congress, returning home for the holidays, he said.

No action has been taken regarding appointment of a secretary of the Republican state committee or of removal of the state headquarters from the Hotel Severin. These matters will not be considered, Mr. Walb said, before the first of the year.

Indiana politicians will watch the Washington conference with unusual interest, since it is to be the first gathering of the Indiana leaders with the national chiefs since the general election of Nov. 4, and will precede only a few days the gathering of the Indiana Republican state committee and legislators in Indianapolis, Dec. 11 and 12.

TWO ARE BURNED IN OIL EXPLOSION

Mrs. George Robb and Son, Ed Robb,

Painfully Injured

USE KEROSENE TO START FIRE

Presence of Mind Saves Both When
Clothing Catches on Fire—Mr.
Robb Most Seriously Burned

Two persons were burned, one seriously, in an explosion of a kerosene can this morning at the home of Robert Robb, 1021 North Benjamin street, with Ed Robb and his mother, Mrs. George Robb, receiving the burns.

Mr. Robb was kindling the fire this morning and when the blaze did not make the headway that it should, he tossed the coal oil into the flames and the explosion resulted.

His mother, who was standing near by, received a portion of the blast that set fire to her clothing, while the son received almost the full blast. Each had a narrow escape from being seriously burned, but their presence of mind aided them in escaping with only slight burns.

The son received the most serious injuries, and was burned badly about the head, arms and body. His mother was burned about the arms and hands, in an effort to extinguish the flames.

Neighbors were attracted to the place by the explosion and excitement that followed, and a physician was summoned to dress the injuries. The son, who was the most seriously burned, is expected to recover, unless some complications arise.

It is regarded as fortunate that the explosion did not kill both members of the family, and it was also a fortunate thing that the house was not set on fire from the burning oil that was scattered about the room, when the can exploded.

FORMER LOCAL MAN SUCCUMBS SUNDAY

W. W. Canada, 70 Years Old, For 13 Years Resident of This City,
Dies at Fort Wayne

HAD STROKE OF APOPLEXY

W. W. Canada, age 70 years, for thirteen years a resident of this city, died Sunday at his home, 527 Huffman street, Fort Wayne, according to word received here today by friends. He suffered a stroke of apoplexy June 25 and had been confined to his bed since that time.

Mr. Canada and family came to Rushville in 1890, when he entered the railway mail service, and lived for many years at the northeast corner of Jackson and Fifth streets. Previous to coming here, he taught school for twenty years and was the first principal of a high school in Wayne county. While living here, Mr. Canada joined the First Presbyterian church and was superintendent of the Sunday school for a number of years. In 1909 he was transferred to Fort Wayne, and was an active member of the Westminster Presbyterian church there. He was also a member of the K. of P. lodge at Lynn, Ind.

The deceased was born near Old Losantville, Randolph county, Dec. 8, 1854, and was married Aug. 23, 1877, to Sarah Jane Heaston of Winchester, Ind.

He is survived by the widow and following children: Dr. Clement L. Dr. George L. W. Harrell, Mrs. Susanna C. Fanner and Mrs. Louisa G. Gillham, all of Fort Wayne, and Dr. J. Everett Canda of Pittsburgh. Four sisters, two brothers and seven grandchildren also survive.

Twilight services will be held for relatives and friends Tuesday evening at the late residence and funeral services and burial will take place at Winchester Wednesday afternoon.

DISTRICT DEPUTY COMING

Joseph L. Clark of Indianapolis, district deputy of the Elks lodge, will be present for the regular meeting of Rushville lodge No. 1307, Wednesday evening, and degree work will be given several candidates. The meeting will begin at 7:30 o'clock and a large attendance of members is requested.

$14 FOR NEAR EAST RELIEF

Sum Raised by War Mothers in Response to Indiana Leader's Appeal

The Rush county chapter of War Mothers realized $14 from the exchange held Saturday at Caron's candy kitchen, which will be given to Near East Relief, to the fund being raised through the observance of Golden Rule Sunday December 7. The local chapter attempted to raise a sum of money when the Indiana War Mother, Mrs. Huntington, sent out an appeal to the chapters of the state, asking their support of the movement to aid orphans in the Near East.

The War Mothers also realized $26 from a quilt, which was disposed of Saturday. It became the property of Mrs. Lawrence Tolls. This money will be used to apply on the expense of planting memorial trees for World War veterans who have died, in Memorial park.

LIQUOR CASE IS GIVEN TO JURY

Only Three Witnesses Used in Trial
of Thomas Robbins of Greensburg For Illegal Sale

TWO TESTIFY TO SALES

Defendant's Attempt to Have Case
Thrown out of Court is Overruled
by Judge

Thomas Robbins of Greensburg was tried today in the circuit court on a charge of illegal sale of liquor and the case was given over to the jury about three o'clock. Only three witnesses were used by each side.

The action against Robbins was sent here on a change of venue from Decatur county, and Fremont Miller, judge of the Johnson county court at Franklin, was elected special judge to try the case.

A special venire of 15 names also was drawn and reported for the case this morning, but little trouble was obtained in picking the jury.

Before the case started this morning, a motion to discharge the defendant was filed, in which it was alleged that the case against him had been carried through three terms of court without trial, and after an argument on the motion, the judge overruled it.

The court held that the delays in the other terms of court had been caused by the defense and not by the state. Another motion was filed in which the defense attempted to show that he had answered to the case on a charge of maintaining a nuisance, and he asked to be discharged because of the former jeopardy.

This motion also was refused and the case was ordered to go on trial. The state presented three witnesses, William Rozelle and Ben Riley, who testified that they had purchased drinks from the defendant at 25 cents a glass. The first named witness made the purchase, according to the evidence, and each testified that they drank two drinks, and that Rozelle paid the dollar. The other witness was John W. Holcomb, prosecuting attorney of Decatur county.

The defense did not offer any evidence but cross-examined these witnesses. It was intimated that in case of conviction, an appeal would be taken.

Robbins is charged with liquor law violations in four cases, and Gregg Alyea of Greensburg is charged in two cases, and all six were venued here at one time.

OFFICE CLOSES THURSDAY

The rush for hunting licenses is now on at the county clerk's office, according to Loren Martin, and the dollar licenses are being handed out at a rapid rate. Mr. Martin called attention today to the fact that the office will not be open on Thursday, and those who expect to hunt on Thanksgiving Day, should get their licenses before time, as he will not be in Rushville to open the office on that day.

REDDISH STAINS FOUND ON PIPES

New Evidence in Sheatsley Furnace
Mystery Points More Directly
Than Ever to Murder

STAINS TO BE ANALYZED

Half Filled Bottle of Carbolic Acid,
Missing From Its Place, Returned
to Parsonage

(By United Press)

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 24—New evidence pointing more directly than ever to the possibility of murder in the furnace mystery was unearthed today when Prosecutor John King and detectives made a thorough search of the Lutheran parsonage.

Stains, which may be blood, were discovered near the furnace.

The stains, a reddish brown in color, were found on asbestos pipe above the furnace door through which Mrs. Sheatsley's body passed into the furnace.

Three finger prints were plainly discernible in the dust on another asbestos pipe.

The half filled bottle of carbolic acid which was missing from the parsonage immediately after Mrs. Sheatsley's death had been returned to its place on the bathroom shelf, King found in searching the house today.

This is further proof of the absurdity of the theory that Mrs. Sheatsley committed suicide, King said.

King immediately ordered all marks and stains carved out and turned over to Charles Long chemist, for analysis.

In the Lutheran parsonage furnace where Mrs. Addie Sheatsley's charred remains were found last Monday afternoon, pathologists today burned the bodies of two guinea pigs, hoping through this experiment to learn something of the circumstances of Mrs. Sheatsley's death.

With John R. King, county prosecutor standing at his side, Dr. H. M. Brundage threw the bodies into the fire and watched them burn.

The fire was brought to approxi-

Stressed in Address—Rush County

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 24—Indiana is trailing thirty eight other states in enacting cooperative marketing laws, W. H. Settle, president of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation, declared today at the opening of the federation convention here.

"We cannot operate our cooperative marketing association to the best advantage under the existing marketing laws in Indiana," he said.

"The Indiana Farm Bureau Federation must concentrate its efforts on securing for the farmers the best cooperative law that has been written on the statute books of any state."

"If agriculture expects to have equal rights with other industries under the law we must interest ourselves in legislation to the same extent that labor and industry have done."

Other legislative problems stressed by Settle in his address was taxation, schools and good roads.

Purdue University will cooperate with the federation to the fullest extent in working for the passage of legislation to help the farmer.

Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, was to address the conference this afternoon.

TRUE BEAUTY IS DEEPER THAN SKIN

It is Soul Deep, Declares the Rev. H.
W. Hargett, in Last of Sermons
on "The Girl of Today"

SETS UP IDEAL FOR GIRLS

Pastor of St. Paul's Church Says
There is Light, Law and Love
in Heart of "King's Daughter"

At St. Paul's M. E. church Sunday night the pastor, the Rev. H. W. Hargett delivered the closing sermon in the series on "The Girl of Today." In spite of the rain and snow a fine audience was present. Mrs. Neff Ashworth sang very beautifully. The text was Psalms 45:13, "The King's daughter within the palace is all glorious."

"That is a noble ideal for the girl of today," said the pastor. "It makes the goal of life glorious womanhood. It leads to the cultivation of that inner beauty of soul which makes the life strong and beautiful whatever its environment. Occasionally we are told beauty is only skin deep. No greater mistake could be made. True beauty is always soul deep."

The King's daughter is all glorious within. Her life is radiant because there is light in her heart and law and love. In his essay on "Lantern Bearer", Robert Louis Stevenson preaches a profound sermon on the power of light within the soul. The lantern bearers were a set of school boys who found a passionate pleasure in buttoning lighted lanterns under their coats and then going forth to roam over the sand hills. Whenever they met each other or met with strangers these urchins in the dark could open their coats and send forth gleams of light that drove back the darkness. In the joy which it gave them these boys knew not that they were poets expressing the secret of the radiant life.

If there is light in the heart of the King's Daughter there is also law. In the centre of the Jewish tabernacle was the Holy of Holies. In that inner shrine was the ark of the covenant overshadowed by the cherubim and illuminated by the glory of the Shekinah. Within the ark were the tables of stone containing the law. Thus I would have you keep within your hearts the law of the Lord. I would have the "Thou shalt not" there as well as the "Thou shalt". Unless it be for some high and holy purpose thou shalt not go where there is danger to health or reputation or influence. Thou shalt not go where you lose the sense of divine values.

Kosciusko County Sheriff Learns
Way Converse Yeggmen Went

Warsaw, Ind., Nov. 24—Sheriff Maley of Kosciusko county today obtained the first clue as to the direction taken by the eight bandits who robbed the bank at Converse last week.

A. E. Yeiter, proprietor of a general store at Chnette, four miles northwest of here, informed the sheriff that two automobiles bearing eight men stopped at his place, procured gasoline and proceeded in the direction of South Bend.

All banks of Warsaw and many business places today were equipped with loaded rifles and revolvers to guard against robberies following the holdup of the Converse bank last week. The banks have also employed special policemen.

WELFARE STOCK VALUE MARKED UP

Frank C. Willis, Accountant and Defendant, Explains How Hawkins
Deficit Was Wiped Out

A SURPLUS IN ITS PLACE

Witness Says His Audit of Books
Did Not Purport to be Actual Financial Condition

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 24—A half million dollars deficit in the account of the Hawkins Mortgage Company was wiped out and the books were made to show a surplus of $125,000 by the simple expedient of marking up the value of stock in Welfare loan associations $625,000, was revealed today in the Hawkins mail fraud trial.

Frank C. Willis, Indianapolis accountant and one of the sixteen defendants in the case, testified that at one stroke the deficit vanished and a substantial surplus appeared to conceal the precarious financial condition of the Mortgage Company.

This juggling of accounts was accomplished through boosting the value of stock in the numerous loan societies operated by the Hawkins Company, Willis declared.

He insisted that the audit of the books of the company which resulted in his indictment did not purport to be a statement of the actual financial condition of the company. Willis testified he made no actual investigation of the condition of the Welfare Companies and was not supposed to do so.

Four of the sixteen defendants had not yet taken the stand in their own defense when the third week of the trial started this morning.

Attorneys for William Sacks, of St. Louis, one of the officers of the United Home Builders, a Hawkins subsidiary loan company, were uncertain whether he would be placed on the stand.

Frank Willis, Indianapolis accountant, charged with making a juggled audit of the Hawkins books, resumed the stand for brief cross examination.

Sensational revelations of the inner workings of the Hawkins company were expected in the testimony of Frank Jaqua, former attorney for the company, who was to take the stand during the day.

An affidavit by Jaqua presented by the government earlier in the trial charged that William Jones and Nord Carter, two other defendants, entered a secret agreement with Morton Hawkins, president of the mortgage company, to "sell out" the Indiana Rural Credit Association for $10,000 in cash and a slice of Hawkins stock.

The case is expected to go to the jury late Tuesday or Wednesday.

Latest Political Gossip About Federal Appointments Does Not Include Him as Possibility

NEW DISTRICT MAY BE ADDED

Northern Indiana Republicans Demanding Judge Shall be From
That Section of State

The summons to Washington of Indiana political leaders, today, by William M. Butler, chairman of the national committee, and the visit of Senator James E. Watson to Indiana over the week end, has revived the speculation over the appointment of a successor to Judge Albert B. Anderson, who is in line for promotion to the United States court of appeals.

There is considerable local interest in revival of the talk about a successor to Judge Anderson because Judge Will M. Sparks of this city has been urged to succeed Judge Anderson, when he is elevated to the higher court, not only by his Rush county friends, but by well known attorneys throughout the state.

It has been known here for some time that Judge Robert C. Baltzell of Princeton, judge of the Gibson circuit court, was favored by a number of republican political leaders, and very strong intimations have come that he will be recommended to President Coolidge for appointment as successor to Judge Anderson.

Several days ago, there was a story circulated in Indianapolis to the effect that Judge Sparks was very prominently mentioned as the probable judge for the northern federal district of Indiana, in case the Hickey bill, which is pending before congress, becomes a law. It would create a new federal district and give Indiana two federal judges.

But following the republican meeting at South Bend Saturday night, which was attended by Senator Watson, Judge Sparks, in a political story in the Indianapolis Star today, was not included in the list of possibilities for the appointment. It was stated that northern Indiana republicans would demand appointment of a northern Indiana man, which would eliminate Judge Sparks from consideration.

Senator Watson is said by the Star this morning to have refused to discuss the matter of pending Federal appointments in Indiana during his stay here yesterday.

"You can't fill a hole until you take out the peg," he said, in reply to a question as to whom he considered the most likely person to succeed either Judge Anderson or Mr. Elliott. He would not discuss, either, the Hickey bill, declaring the bill is in the Senate now, and that it status is the same as it was at the close of the last session of Congress.

NEGLECT WAS RESPONSIBLE

Conservation Officials Endeavoring to Create Sentiment for Cooperation in Fire Fighting

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 24—With the burning over of thousands of acres of land in Floyd, Harrison, Brown and Bartholomew counties last week before rains and heroic work of fire fighters prevented further spread, flames destroyed many thousands of dollars worth of young forest growth, that it will take years to reproduce, state conservation officials estimate.

Practically all young reproduction was wiped out over large areas, thereby postponing for many years the maturing of a timber crop so badly needed on our Indiana hills, declared Richard Lieber, conservation director for this state.

According to Charles C. Deam, state forester, wanton neglect was responsible for these forest fires. Local residents turn out and fight fires only when their homes are threatened. In many cases they backfired only to keep the flames from their buildings, and allowed the red demon to travel on to a neighbor's holdings.

Conservation officials are endeavoring to create sentiment toward perfecting local organizations to co-operate to fight forest fires when they are small and to prevent a general spread, because the experience of a week ago shows that at best local people only make a half hearted defense to keep flames away from their orchards, buildings, hay and straw stacks and not protect young forest growth.

"Those hills never will grow any timber and we may just as well let the fire burn what already is there," is a common statement to be heard among the hill people of Indiana. On the other hand the conservation department knows that nature intended those very hills for heavy forest production, they once contained the greatest hardwoods in the world and pure neglect caused them to be denuded now since former valuable crop was logged. The reason some of these hills now do not grow timber is because fires burn over them year after year, destroying the young growth and the leaf mulch, and injuring the larger trees.

If a reasonable amount of care is taken these Indiana hills can be depended upon to supply a considerable percent of our needed timber, but the first step in such a program is elimination of fire. Nature will do the rest, particularly if guided by sound forest management, Deam says.

WILL TEST 'SANAKRYSEN'

What is Believed to Be Sure Cure for Tuberculosis to be Used

Columbus, Ohio., Nov., 24—"Sanakrysen," believed to be a sure cure for tuberculosis is to be tested in this country soon, according to Dr. Allen W. Freeman of Johns Hopkins University.

The new compound is being brought here from Copenhagen where it has been used with success by Professor Mollgard and will be given tests by the United States public health service, Dr. Freeman said.

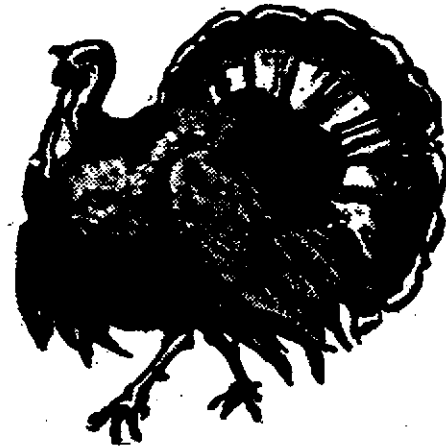

"Sanakrysen" is declared to be fatal to the tubercle bacillus, so fatal in fact that the principal difficulty in administering it that patients often are poisoned because of their inability to throw off the many dead tubercles.

The Christmas Seal

The history of the Tuberculosis Christmas Seal movement in Indiana and America is of deep interest to every citizen of the state at this time of the year, when "White Plague" opponents in this community and practically all others throughout the country are starting to finance the 1925 antituberculosis program through the sale of penny Christmas Seals.

Sixteen years ago Jacob Riis wrote an article for the "Outlook," telling of Christmas stamps sold in Denmark for support of a children's hospital there. Miss Emily P. Bissell, of Wilmington, Del., sold Seals for the first time in the United States and raised $1,000 thereby, to pay for the site of the first tuberculosis sanatorium in Delaware. This sanatorium was named "Hope Farm." After this experience, the growth in popularity of the little penny health emblems became greater and finally extended into far corners of the country. From the first it was realized by persons interested in the fight that the organized movement to combat the disease would have its widest value, perhaps, in its educational phases. From 1908 until 1919 the annual Christmas Seal Sale was sponsored by the American Red Cross, but by that time the fight against the "White Plague" had outgrown the emergency basis on which the American Red Cross most often operates, and it was determined that the fight was of such a continuing character that it should be placed upon its own feet with a national organization carrying on. The National Tuberculosis Association by then was well organized, its component parts being various state organizations such as the present Indiana Tuberculosis Association—and these state organizations, in turn, made up of county associations operating in uniformity to educate the public against the ravages of the "Plague". For the first time, in 1919, the Christmas Seal carried the double-barred red cross, a specific symbol of the fight against tuberculosis, and the official emblem of the National Tuberculosis Association. This latter organization now has more than 1,300 state and local agencies in the United States.

As early as 1907, 300,000 of the little Christmas Seals were sold. From that small beginning the sale of Christmas Seals has leaped to a total of over $4,000,000 worth sold in 1923. This year throughout the United States the National Tuberculosis Association has distributed to its various agencies more than a billion Seals.

A total of 40,000,000 Seals has been ordered by the Indiana Tuberculosis Association for distribution to county associations for the 1924 Seal Sale. Murray A. Auerbach, executive secretary of the state association, is expecting that the Hoosier state will sell nearly $800,000 in Seals at the Christmas time this year, and such an amount will enable anti-tuberculosis work to go forward, he says, in an expended way that will mean a material decrease in the death rate from the disease in future years. Several counties of the state, in all probability, will exceed the ten cent per capita quota, which is the goal of all counties. In such counties citizens throughout 1925 and other future years will reap rewards in lives saved the sickness prevented that will repay in thousand fold the small amounts donated to the penny emblem of health. In our own community the Seal Sale is one worthy of the enthusiastic support and cooperation of every man, woman and child. Let's buy the Christmas Seal and drive out tuberculosis.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican Wednesday, Nov. 24, 1909

Thanksgiving would not be complete without a football game and Rushville is to have one. The local high school eleven will line up with the strong Kirklin high school team at the South Main Street grounds tomorrow afternoon.

Dan Kinney is recovering at his home in West Tenth street from injuries received in a fall Monday. He was standing on the steps of a train at the Big Four station when he lost his balance and fell to the platform. He was considerably bruised up and will probably be laid up for several days.

The annual Thanksgiving service will be held Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Main Street Christian church. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. E. C. Myers of the First Baptist church.

Lieut. Gov. Hall was a student in Indiana University back in 1867, when there were only four in the graduating class.

Allen Hiner, who is a student of Wabash college, will come tomorrow evening to spend the Thanksgiving vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hiner in North Main street. George Hopkins of Renaissance will be his guest for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reynolds will spend Thanksgiving with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reynolds in Straughns.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Miller returned yesterday from an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. William Neebom in Maryland and also with their son, Eugene, who is a student in Harvard University at Cambridge, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Pierson and son Charles and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Williams and son Roy of Indianapolis will spend Thanksgiving with R. H. Jones and family.

Miss Minnie Beher and Prof. and Mrs. J. H. Stockinger will go to St. Paul this evening to spend Thanksgiving with friends and relatives.

Miss Alpha Hanna Redman and Alvin Thomas Gibbs were married by the Rev. V. W. Tevis at the minister's home in North Harrison street this afternoon.

Thomas, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Neil of East Eighth street, is very ill.

Greensburg News: James Spillman, who is now the owner of a store in Milroy, is to become a citizen of that thrifty little town, from present indications. He has contracted with Smith Brothers, of this city, to build him a six room house and bath, a bungalow, in Milroy.

Elmer Williams, a student at Indiana University, came today to spend Thanksgiving with relatives near New Salem.

Election Had Quiet Influence (Detroit Free Press)

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — The United States women in politics are generally predicted. During the years of suffrage agitation and campaigning, has not materialized.

At least she has not materialized as the woman who gets elected to office. She may be more active in agitating for the election of women, she may be the one who keeps things stirred up, but it is the long-haired ladies who are found to be victorious when the votes are counted.

Without exception, no woman elected to high office since woman suffrage was adopted has had short hair. Whether that is just happen-so, or whether this result is due to a clearly defined preference on the part of the voters for women who retained their long locks, no one can say for sure.

Perhaps it is simply another evidence of our conservatism, this choosing for public office of women who hold to the conservative, dignified, old-time culture as against the modern "progressives" who wear their hair cut short.

MISS JEANETTE RANKIN, first woman to sit in Congress, wore her hair drawn straight back in a rather severe, spinsterly coiffure. "Aunt Alice" Robertson drew her gray hair into a tight little knot in the style affected by the grandmothers of the modern bob-heads.

Mrs. Winifred Maudie Heck and Mrs. Mae Nolan were loyal severe in the styles in which they wore their hair, but the point is, they wore it long.

"Grandma" Felton of Georgia, "senator for a day," violated the traditions of the old south by participating in politics, but she held inviolate the tresses of her girlhood.

So, too, do Mrs. Mary Norton and Mrs. Mary Burton, who will sit in the sixty-ninth Congress. And if this perfect score for the long-haired women in national politics is not convincing as to their conservatism, even the long-haired ladies in politics generally, then consider the fact that two women to be elected governors.

Neither "Ma" Ferguson of Texas nor "Opa" Bell of Wyoming wear their hair short. If they did, who knows? They might not have won election.

For, as Coolidge's 1924 victory plainly proves, the mass of American voters are at heart conservatives.

THERE seems to be some sort of affinity, political or otherwise, between the United States navy and the Roosevelt family.

To fill the vacancy as assistant secretary of navy, caused by the resignation of Theodore Jr., who quit the job to run for governor of New York, President Coolidge has appointed young Theodore Douglas Robinson of New York, a cousin of Theodore Jr., and a nephew of the original T. R.

Robinson's mother, Mrs. Douglas Robinson, was the youngest sister of President Roosevelt. His wife was herself formerly a Roosevelt, being a distant cousin of Theodore.

With Theodore Robinson, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Theodore Roosevelt Jr. and Theodore Robinson all serving as assistant secretary of navy in a span of little more than 30 years, it might appear that this post is in danger of being entailed in the Roosevelt family. Certainly no such continuity of service in any similar office can be found for any other family.

OF equal interest to the appointment of young Robinson to this post, however, is the question of how it affects the likelihood of Theodore Jr. being named the naval secretaryship for President Coolidge's next term.

Until now, this has been considered most likely. But the placing of both naval secretaryships in one family seems hardly likely. Certainly it would be poor "politics."

If there is light and law in the heart of the king's daughter there is also love. Love is the crowning glory of womanhood. Back of the service of our greatest men has even been the loving ministry of some noble wife or mother or sister or maiden aunt. Genius has been shaped, impulses restrained, errors corrected and a life moulded by hands the world never saw and of which often it has not dreamed. A recent biography of Count Tolstoy gives to his aunt Tatiana, the glory of building in him a strong moral and religious character. His mother died when he was an infant, his father when he was but nine years of age. His aunt rescued him from evil associations. Of her he says, "Aunt Tatiana taught me the moral joy of pure affection, not by words alone, but by her whole being; she imbued me with an admiration for all good things and helped me to experience the real joy of loving service for others." She who seeks that which is lovely in spirit, beautiful in conduct, tender in sympathy, pure in thought, lofty and unselfish in service is entitled to that most royal title, "A Daughter of the King."

HELP FOR OLD FOLKS

Old Age Should be Happy—Not a Time of Sickness and Suffering

Too many people begin to suffer at middle age with constant backache, urinary ills and rheumatic pains and aches. Weak kidneys are usually the cause and, if neglected, there is danger of hardened arteries, dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic before kidney disease gets a firm hold! Use Doan's Pills. Thousands of old folks recommend Doan's.

Here is Rushville proof:
I. L. Clifford, retired mail carrier, 224 W. Fourth St., says: "I suffered with intense pains through the small of my back. At night, too, my back ached. My kidneys acted far too often and it was frequently necessary to pass the secretions at night. Doan's Pills, however, from Hargrove & Brown's Drug Store, relieved the backache and strengthened my kidneys."

IRISH ONLY TEAM WITHOUT BLEMISH

Notre Dame Stands Alone as One Without Defeat or Tie to Mar Season's Record

WILL COAST REST OF THE WAY

General Dissatisfaction Expressed Over "Clouded" Championship Won by Chicago

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, Nov. 24—With the only schedule in the land that has not been blemished by a defeat or a tie game, Notre Dame now leads all the football teams in the country. Defeating Northwestern Saturday, Notre Dame reached the summit of her mountainous schedule and the way should be coasting for the rest of the season.

Yale, Harpmonth and Pennsylvania are the only undefeated teams in the east, but they have engaged in tie games. Yale has played two tie games but has played through a schedule so much harder that she deserves first ranking in the east.

Yale also is the official champion of the "big three" for the second successive year and when a great victory was turned in over Harvard Saturday in a blinding rain storm, Yale finished her second season without a defeat.

Iowa State's unexpected victory over Drake last Saturday changed the standing in the Missouri Valley conference and placed Missouri in the lead. If Missouri fails to beat Kansas in their annual game on Thursday, Nebraska will claim the championship.

On the margin of one tied game less, Stanford is the champion of the Pacific Coast. California has two ties against Stanford's one and neither team was defeated. Some eligibility troubles, however, may cause the championship to be awarded to California.

By EDWARD C. DEER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Nov. 24—General dissatisfaction with the clouded "championship" of the Big Ten football conference, won by the University to make radical changes in their plans when they meet here early in December.

Coach Stagg's Maroons, with only a mediocre team, went through six conference games undefeated and since every other Big Ten team was beaten at least once, Chicago claims the title.

But Chicago was tied by Illinois, Ohio State and Wisconsin. The only games the Maroons won were against Indiana, Purdue and Northwestern—teams generally rated at the bottom of the heap. They did not meet Michigan, Iowa or Minnesota and the general feeling prevails that at least two of these teams could have beaten Chicago. Missouri defeated the Maroons before the conference season opened.

Stagg's men arose to great heights and played far over their heads in holding "Red" Grange and his Illinois teammates to a tie. It was their biggest game and they pointed for it. They were never as good before or after.

Although somewhat different, the 1923 season was likewise unsatisfactory in that Illinois and Michigan both completed their schedules without defeat and had equal claims to the championship. They didn't meet each other.

Since it is obviously impossible for any team to engage each of the nine Big Ten opponents in any one year, the schedule makers are expected to devise some way of dividing the conference into an "upper" and "lower" groups so that each team would meet each other. These groups would change each year, of course, so that a team one year may be in the title class another year.

The final standing:

	Won	Lost	Tied
Chicago	3	0	3
Illinois	2	1	1
Iowa	3	1	1
Michigan	4	2	0
Purdue	2	2	0
Minnesota	1	2	1
Northwestern	1	3	0
Ohio	1	3	2
Wisconsin	0	2	2

Day of Big Purse Passing

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Nov. 24—Disturbed by the sharp decline of business in the boxing racket, "boxers" and their managers are now ready to admit that the day of the huge purse is passing and that boxers will have to fight harder in the future and for less money if the sport is to be maintained in the public fancy.

Eddie Kane, manager for Tom Telford and Sammy Mandell, two of the greatest drawing cards in the game, was the first to start a new precedent for modern managers that will have to be followed if the sport is to be revived.

The big purses that made boxing the most profitable profession in the country for three years, resulted from outdoor shows and they were patronized so well that promoters could afford to offer absurd purses for the most ordinary attractions. It was foolish to believe that the public would tolerate indefinitely such an exorbitant assessment for the enjoyment of a sport that was decreasing constantly in class by the refusal of the topnotchers to meet real opponents.

Some managers fooled themselves into the notion that the public would stand for anything and they wouldn't consider a match that would demand any kind of a risk for their fighter. The public finally got fed up on poor shows and stopped paying the freight.

The Firpo-Wills fight was such a terrible bust that it practically closed the outdoor arenas for the season and almost blew up the business.

The towering form of Redwood tree

MAY IT INTRODUCE BILL TO CONTROL BUSES

Senator-Elect E. W. Payne of
Bloomington Favors Giving One
Large Company a Franchise

TOO MANY ARE OPERATING

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 24—State Senator-elect E. W. Payne, of Bloomington, announced today he would probably introduce a bill in the next legislature for the control of motor busses by the public service commission.

A similar bill was introduced in the last session of the legislature but failed to pass.

"Busses, without a doubt, are and will be a big factor in Hoosier traffic problems," Senator-elect Payne said. "I believe there are too many bus lines operating to be for the best interests of the public."

"I would favor of giving one large company a franchise to operate over such routes as Bloomington-Martinsville-Indianapolis, allowing the company to charge $2 instead of $1.50 and compelling it to give much better service."

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once.

Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blistering, just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children.

Ask for Children's Musterole.

"Flirting With Love"

That bit of flame in "Flaming Youth," the exposé of "Painted People" and the perfect "flapper" of "The Perfect Flapper" will enact a temperamental actress in "Flirting With Love" at the Princess Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

For the benefit of the few uninitiated it is no other than Colleen Moore, who is co-featured with Conway Tearle in this latest First National production, "Flirting With Love," based on Leroy Scott's story "Counterfeit," and directed by John Francis Dillon.

Earl Hudson, under whose supervision the picture was produced, could not have devised a better acting combination than these two players, who have leaped to the highest screen fame in little more than a year. Only those who see them in "Flirting With Love" will appreciate the greater histrionic heights they are certain to attain.

Although Miss Moore has been identified more or less with light comedy roles in her last three pictures, the surprise in store for her followers consists of seeing the young star in a tense emotional role. But not to the neglect of the style of comedy which has brought about her extreme popularity.

Needy Parents Come Before Even Second Hand Automobiles

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 24—Needy parents should be considered before second hand automobiles.

This was essentially the comment of the Indiana supreme court in upholding the provisions of an act passed by the last legislature providing that children are responsible for the support of their parents in case the latter are unable to support themselves.

The court in making this decision upheld the decision of the Lawrence circuit court in the case of the state against Bernard Lundy, of Bedford, Ind., who was said to be able to support his parents failed to do so and took them to the county poor farm. Lundy declared that he was married and his expenses were so great that he was unable to support them.

He said he spent $150 a month to support himself and his family. Of this item, it was found that $44.50 was for the purchase of a second hand automobile.

It's Warm Out-Of-Doors on the GULF COAST
The American Riviera

Commissioned by Louis V. to find a new world colony, IBERVILLE, with his brother Bismarck, crossed the sea and dropped anchor in what is now Biloxi Bay. Settlements were created and the flag of France raised at Mobile, Pensacola, Ocean Springs, Biloxi, Gulfport, Pass Christian, Bay St. Louis and New Orleans.

IBERVILLE explored the Gulf Coast from New Orleans to Pensacola on frigates and barges. You, from the cold North, discover its sunny comfort and its romantic old-world interest, on the excellent through trains of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad; including the de luxe all-steel limited, The Pan-American.

Climate and sports, sunshine and rest; surfaced roads skirting the tree-fringed Gulf shore; modern hotels and hospitable people; low round-trip fares and uniformly moderate costs give charm and logic to the Gulf Coast as your winter vacation place. Let the undersigned give you further and complete information. Ask or write for illustrated booklets.

It takes only a day and night to reach the Gulf Coast over the L. & N. Its fast through trains, the Pan-American and New Orleans Limited, are operated daily between Cincinnati and Louisville and New Orleans.

COMMISSION TO MAKE FARM STUDY

To Report to Pres. Coolidge Measures Which May be Factors in a Governmental Policy

PREDICTS A GREAT CHANGE

Washington, Nov. 24—The commission appointed by President Coolidge to advise him on agriculture policies will make a study going far beyond the problem of temporary relief.

President Coolidge has instructed the commission to be prepared to report to him measures which may become fundamental factors in a governmental policy toward agriculture.

The president disclosed in his speech to the Land Grant College meeting that he is convinced an era of tremendous change is approaching in American farming. He believes "within a very few years" the United States will become one of the greatest buyers of farm products instead of one of the greatest sellers.

With this fundamental revolution imminent in the American farming world, Mr. Coolidge believes the government should be prepared with an adequate policy toward agriculture. In a general way measures should be taken to assure the American farmer the most scientific means of production and distribution.

"If we permit our farming population to fall to the level of a mere agricultural peasantry, they will carry down with them the general social and economic level," he pointed out.

The president did not indicate in his speech what the scope of the new farm policy might be. He will deliver another address November 17 before the agricultural commission which is expected to outline his plans more definitely.

"Senator Watson, according to rumors among those who have been looking to 1926, and who have been following the progress of the Hickey bill and the contest for the Federal bench here, is said to favor Robert C. Baltzell of Princeton, judge of the Gibson Circuit court, as a successor to Judge Anderson.

Followers of Postmaster General Harry S. New have opposed Senator Watson's making the appointment. The senator will be a candidate to succeed himself in the Senate in two years and selection of his favorite might be an advantage to him. Others who have been mentioned in connection with the berth are Archie Graham and Thomas Stack, both of South Bend.

Passage of the Hickey bill, it is believed will eliminate possibility of a clash between the opposing forces, by making necessary appointment of two judges, in which case Judge Baltzell would have the inside track for the South district, with Mr. Graham leading the field for the bench in the Northern division.

It is understood the Hoosier leaders will work for passage of the bill in view of the stand taken at the South Bend parley. The consensus of opinion there was that Indiana should be placed on a par with Texas, Missouri and other Western states, which do not have as much business as Indiana, and which still have two Federal court divisions.

When Mr. Walb said the matter of Indiana appointments possibly

would come before the Washington conference, he declined to state whether he would recommend any one for the positions.

Mr. Walb will return to Indiana to spend Thanksgiving at his home in Lagrange, returning to Indianapolis for the inauguration of Frederick E. Schortemeier as secretary of state. Senator Watson will remain in Washington for the opening of Congress, returning home for the holidays, he said.

No action has been taken regarding appointment of a secretary of the Republican state committee or removal of the state headquarters from the Hotel Severin. These matters will not be considered, Mr. Walb said, before the first of the year.

Indiana politicians will watch the Washington conferences with unusual interest, since it is to be the first gathering of the Indiana leaders with the national chiefs since the general election of Nov. 4, and will precede only a few days the gathering of the Indiana Republican state committee and legislators in Indianapolis, Dec. 11 and 12.

TIME TO PLAN THANKSGIVING DINNER

Every housewife looks forward to the preparation of this meal with enthusiasm—and sometimes with dread if there doesn't happen to be a dependable grocery in her community. The planning will be made easier by a visit to our store. We are prepared to supply all requirements, both in staple foods and dainties.

If you haven't done so before, come in. A careful comparison with others' qualities and prices is invited.

We have just received our first Mammoth Cheese for this season. Only a few stores are able to sell cheese in such a large quantity. No other store in Rushville has ever attempted to handle them. Our cheese is made to order in June (when the best cheese is made). The one now on sale is exceptionally mild, rich and creamy. Genuine New York and simply melts in your mouth.
